INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING A MOTION
2024 FEB 22 PM 5:32

A motion requests the Court to take action under a specific Federal Rule. For instance, a motion to amend your complaint is made under Rule 15 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Except for certain kinds of emergency motions, the Court cannot grant your motion until the defendants have been served with your motion and the summons and complaint. Therefore, generally, you should not submit a motion until after you have served defendant(s) with the summons and complaint.

To make a motion, you must do the following:

1. Write your motion. A motion consists of two parts:
 - a. A notice of motion, which sets the "return date" date of the motion. You need not appear on the return date.
 - b. An affidavit or affirmation explaining what you are seeking and why you are entitled to the relief. You may also submit a memorandum of law, but it is not necessary.
 - i. An affidavit is a statement sworn to before a licensed notary public of the state. An affirmation is a sworn statement made under penalty of perjury. When using the affidavit/affirmation form, strike the terms which do not apply to the type of form you are submitting.
 - ii. Your affidavit or affirmation should attach and refer to any relevant exhibits. You may also attach affidavits or affirmations from other people who have personal knowledge of relevant information regarding the motion.
 - iii. You may also submit a memorandum of law to explain what the law is and how it applies to the facts of your case. However, any facts on which you rely must be in an affidavit or affirmation; it is not sufficient to put them in a memorandum of law. Similarly, the affidavit or affirmation should contain only facts. If you prepare a memorandum of law, you must send it to each defendant or his/her attorney(s).
2. Serve the papers by mail on the defendants or (if the defendant's attorney has filed papers in the case already) on the defendant's attorney. If there is more than one defendant or defendants are represented by different attorneys, you must serve a copy on each.
3. Send your motion papers to the Pro Se Office with an affirmation of service. (Form annexed).

When you write your motion papers, you should include the following:

The notice of motion should say that you will "move" on a certain day. This is the day the motion will be marked ready for decision by the judge. It generally must be at least fifteen business days after you have served the defendants with the motion papers (at least (5) business days for discovery motions). See Rule 6 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

Attached are two sets of forms for making a motion. The first set are sample illustration forms to refer to so you know how to fill out the blank notice of motion and affidavit/affirmation forms.

If you have any questions, contact the Pro Se Office at (718) 613-2665 (no collect calls).
